

HOARD ENDORSES CONVENTION IDEA

WRITES THAT LOYALTY TO TAFT
IS THE PROPER SLOGAN

CONVENTION ON JUNE 8TH

County Convention, Will Be Held
(Here on Saturday, June 4 to Name Delegates to State Gathering.)

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milwaukee, Wis., May 27.—It was announced today that the official
call for the state gathering of the Republicans scheduled for June 8, will be issued this afternoon, it being in the hands of the printer now and will be sent out to the different county
representatives at once so that as much publicity can be given as possible.
"Loyalty to Taft" is the predominant sentiment in the call which is signed by hundreds of representative
Republicans throughout the state.

The call will ask that county conventions be held in each county on Saturday, June 4, to select delegates to the Milwaukee convention on the basis of the same representative as
was chosen for the last republican state convention in 1904. E. L.
Phillips, who has charge of the general
call, states that the endorsement of the movement has received throughout the state is surprising. Among the latest letters to be received is one
from former Governor Hoard, who endorses the proposed gathering in the following letter:

"I received your telegram asking if I was willing to be identified with other republicans in a call for a state convention, the object of which shall be, as I understand it, to unite the republican party in Wisconsin in support of President Taft and the pledges
made by the last national convention,
concerning the carrying out of certain
policies in legislation.

Admiring President Taft.
I was that kind of a republican
then and I see no reason why I am not
now. I heartily sympathize with the so-called insurgents in their efforts to change the status of the rules in the house of representatives and I am
not an admirer of Cannon nor Aldrich,
but I am a firm believer in the patriotism, honesty and ability of President Taft. I admire his sanity,
his strong common sense as seen in
his willingness to co-operate with any
and all factions in redeeming the republican pledges he gave and the party
gave for him. I have no patience with any faction that tries to elevate itself above the central purpose of
doing what the party as a whole
agreed to do.

Against Unreasonable Radicalism.
I do not believe in a radicalism
that is too radical to be reasonable.
I shall try to shape my political
course along these lines, believing that at least the great heart of the republican party will see that it is duty to the country to follow the same and reasonable course. President Taft is trying to follow. I have no sympathy with any set of men in
any party who, in face of the demands
and necessities of the hour put themselves and their faction above their duty to the whole country.

"If with this declaration of political belief you are willing to count me
in, you are at liberty to do so and I will be glad to co-operate with you or any other man for such purpose.

Yours truly,
"W. D. HOARD."
The call will be sent to each county
at once, and it will be officially
issued at once for the county gathering
to choose the representatives to the Milwaukee meeting. Rock county has thirty-two delegates at this session, based on the call issued by the republican state central committee in 1904. The meeting for this county will be held at the county court house on Saturday, June 4, and it is understood that it will be attended by representative republican
from all parts of the county.

The following is the list of Rock
county republicans who signed the
call for the state gathering:
H. F. Biles, H. L. McNamara, A.
M. Fisher, A. E. Matheson, M. G.
Jeffries, David Atwood, E. D. Mc-Gowan, H. J. Cunningham, C. E.
Curran, C. W. Reader, Orville Moore,
R. L. Colvin, O. H. Fothergill, W. T.
Seafeld, H. P. Eldred, A. J. Janora,
E. L. Hansen, D. H. Pollock, H. D.
Treadway, P. E. Olson, E. E. Walker,
D. H. Foster, Oliver Parker, Barrett
Smith, Robert Moore, Otto Seeger, A.
D. Frink, E. W. Cook, E. C. Hopkins,
Henry E. Elliott, B. A. Baker, Harry
Blackley, A. E. Baker, Dr. C. W.
Culver, A. V. Peters, S. S. Jones, W.
Hann L. Crandall, P. M. Green, U. G.
Walte.

Among the delegates that will go
from Madison are Magnus Swenson
and L. B. Hanks, members of the board of regents of the university.
Mr. Hanks having been first selected by La Follette himself on the university governing board and being one of the leading republicans of the state who, six years ago, signed the call which was made La Follette's
excuse for running for a third term.
The coming Taft conference in Milwaukee is expected to be a notable gathering of representative and influential men. Friends of Gov. Davidson believe it will endorse him for governor and encourage him to again
stand for renomination. Friends of H. T. Fitch, of Milwaukee, however, urge that Gov. Davidson run for the senate against La Follette.

of Japan, in which the Russian
fleet under Admiral Rojastvensky,
while trying to effect a passage
through the southern channel of Korea, was almost totally destroyed by the Japanese fleet under Admiral Togo, was observed here and throughout Japan with appropriate festivities. That battle, which practically wiped out Russia's sea power
and made Japan master of the situation in the Far East, was the last
and most decisive engagement of the war and led to the peace negotiations and the final treaty of Portsmouth.

GARIBALDI FETES IN ITALY ENDED

Commemorated Fiftieth Anniversary
of Patriot's Expedition Which Freed Sicily From Bourbons.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Rome, May 27.—The fete celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of Gar-
ibaldi's famous expedition which freed Sicily from the Bourbons culminated
today in elaborate festivities throughout Italy. The chief celebration was at Palermo, the Sicilian capital, where
a magnificent monument erected in memory of the "Thousand of Marsala"
was unveiled in the presence of members of the royal family, the court,
ministers, and deputations of veterans
who served under Garibaldi. The thousands of people who witnessed the ceremony displayed the utmost enthusiasm. The decorations of public and private buildings were of the most impressive and liberal character. Every corner of the name of Garibaldi, Italy, and King Victor Emmanuel was
graced with loud cheers.

Dispatches from the provinces report
that the day has been celebrated everywhere with the greatest enthusiasm.
The people of Genoa marched in procession to the "fatal rock of Quarto,"
from which Garibaldi and his band of
a thousand patriots sailed to attack Palermo. Thousands of people made the pilgrimage to the tomb of Garibaldi at Caprea. Picturesque Garibaldians in red shirts stormed and climbed the national monument there
to deposit upon it flags and crowns
of flowers. The scene was one of indescribable emotion.

The capture of Sicily, in commemoration of which Italy has been on fete for the past two weeks, forms
one of the most brilliant chapters in the story of Italy's struggle for independence. After nine years in exile
in America Garibaldi returned government that oppressed them. On May 6, 1860, he sailed from Genoa to Palermo
with 1,000 followers, and within a month had become dictator of Sicily.
The Bourbon government crumbled before the new created, and in a short time Garibaldi was the dictator
of the two Sicilies, and was about to march on Rome and proclaim Victor Emmanuel King of Italy, but was restrained by Napoleon III.

JULIA WARD-HOWE IS NINETY-ONE

Venerable Author and Publicist Is Re-

Home in Boston.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Boston, Mass., May 27.—Mrs. Julia
Ward Howe, poet, author, philanthropist, preacher, publicist, social
historian, journalist and playwright,
was the recipient at her charming,
old fashioned home on Beacon street,
of many congratulations in honor of her ninety-first birthday. Only a week ago Mrs. Howe was re-elected head of the New England Woman Suffrage
association, in grateful recognition of the valuable work which she has done
for the cause. Notwithstanding her advanced age and her somewhat feeble physical condition, Mrs. Howe is still mentally active and deeply interested in the important problems of the day.
She spent the day quietly at her home, surrounded by the members of her family and a few intimate friends.
Letters and telegrams of congratula-tion arrived in large number, also
many handsome floral and other gifts.
As in former years the great and the Italian societies of the city sent
Mrs. Howe beautiful floral tributes.
The New England Woman's club, of which Mrs. Howe is the president,
gave a birthday luncheon in her hon-
or, but she did not attend it in person.
Considering her advanced age, her
health is still good and her strength surprising.

THERE IS A HAPPY MEDIUM IN EVERYTHING

Anything that is overdone or underdone is not good. This is especially true of baking.

There is a wonderful difference in bread. Home baked bread is usually heavy and soggy—not thoroughly baked, because no home has the proper facilities for right baking.

Bakers bread is usually a dry tasteless loaf—sometimes it even tastes sour.

All old soldiers, women and royal neighbors are invited to be present. On Monday the veterans will meet at Huggert's hall at 1:30 and march to the church where special memorial services will be held. They will then proceed to the cemetery where the graves will be decorated. At the church A. M. Fisher of Janesville will deliver the address and at the cemetery John Adkinson will speak and the school children will sing songs over the graves of the unknown dead.

Would Train Boys to Serve Country. The London Lancet would welcome a comprehensive scheme by which, for instance, a boy, leaving school at about fifteen years, might pass through post office or newspaper work for three or four years; then enter the army for five or six years or more; then pass to the police, post office, railway or other permanent employment.

DIED AT THE WORK BENCH ON THURSDAY

Gus Baker, Well Known Cigar Maker Passed Away Late Yesterday Afternoon.

Stricken with a sudden attack of heart trouble, to which he was subject, Gus Baker, a well known cigar maker, fell dead late Thursday afternoon in the cigar factory of Madison Bros., 117 West Milwaukee street, while working at his trade. Baker rose from his work bench and took a few steps across the room when he toppled over and was dead. A few moments after, Dr. Vauhall, who had been hastily summoned, reached his side.

Almost directly below the scene of his death the auction of the Piper jewelry store was being held. The store crowded with women. So little excitement did the death cause and the removal of the body to the Kimball morgue, that none of those in the auction knew of the death until later.

Chief of Police Appleby was notified and reached the scene at once and ordered the removal of the body to Kimball's morgue until Mrs. Baker could be notified and make what arrangements she desired. Al, Madison and his two sons, Frank and John, were in the room with Baker when the end came and their statements showed that he had been complaining of his heart for some time and suddenly rose, taking a few steps to a chair and out of it onto the floor with a cry of "Oh God."

Baker has been a resident of Janesville for the past sixteen years, coming here from Plattesville, Pennsylvania, his birthplace. He has been prominent in the local unions since their organization and was also a member of the Federated Trades Council. He was well liked by his fellow workers and was a kindly jovial friend.

He lived at 1412 Magnolia avenue. He was born in Plattesville, Penn., March 19, 1865, and is survived by a widow and three children, Mrs. Howard Cutts, Miss Inez Baker and Donald Baker.

TRY NEW PLAN FOR SECURING UMPIRES

Instead of choosing umpires from among the spectators as was done during many of the Commercial League games last year, President Conrad this year has evolved a new plan which will be tried out at the games this Saturday. He has induced a number of real fans to offer their services as umpires, the corps to number fifteen or eighteen, if that many can be secured, so that the burden will not fall on a few overworked men be compelled to call fouls and strikes or make technical decisions. E. W. Miller, whose work was highly satisfactory last year, will umpire at the fair grounds Saturday at the Parker-Pan-Coke-Hater-Woolen Mill game, while Thos. Abbott will officiate at the Lewis Knitting Co. game at the Y. M. C. A. park. This year the games will all be started promptly at 2:30 if possible.

Many Improvements. That the new management proposes and will carry out plans to make the coming season most successful is shown by the amount of work already done in improving the grounds. Both diamonds have been placed in first-class condition, the infield cleared of soil and the outfield mowed, the bases placed at the official distances and new regulation bases purchased. Foul line flags have also been secured and with proper co-operation by both the players and officials to help the league officers in their work, there will be a total absence of the careless methods that contributed to the lack of proper scoring last year.

Arrangements are being made to have official scorers with the requisite materials at every game so that there will be no dispute in regard to awarding the trophies offered. President Conrad and the managers of the teams are working hard to perfect every detail and if the players will show the right spirit and work together with the management, the season will undoubtedly be highly successful. Much interest is already aroused and officials of all the factories represented will be present at the opening games as well as many baseball enthusiasts from the city.

PRISON TERM FOR JAMES O'CONNOR

Pleading Guilty to Burglary in Daytime and Received Minimum Sentence of One Year at Waupun.

On his petition for an immediate hearing, information charging James O'Connor with burglariously entering the dwelling house of John Joyce in the daytime on May 21 was filed in municipal court this morning and the prisoner entered a plea of guilty. Asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, and questioned regarding his past life, the prisoner declared that drunkenness was the only excuse he could offer; that he was 22 years of age; that his home was in Hamilton county, Ohio, but that he had not been there for some years; that in recent times he had worked at teaming in Camp Douglas, Oskdale, West Salem, and other places in Wisconsin; that he had never served time in any penitentiary but that he was at one time arrested in Florida and taken to Pensacola to work several weeks on the roads. Attorney Stanley G. Dunwiddie who represented him, stated that while O'Connor claimed only to have received stolen property and his attorney believed that to be true, there was no difference in the penalty and it had been deemed best to enter a plea of guilty to the original charge and thus save the court the trouble of changing the information. Judge Pilsch imposed the minimum penalty of one year in prison and District Attorney Fisher and Attorney Dunwiddie assured the prisoner that if his conduct in prison justified it they would be glad to do what they could to help him obtain a parole and work for him after six months' incarceration. Sheriff Schellert took a Holist boy to Wisconsin today and arrangements for taking O'Connor to Waupun will not be made until tomorrow.

visit to this state of Mr. A. L. Sylvestor, in charge of the leaf department of the American Cigar Co. is said to be an important change in the management of the business of the trust in Wisconsin. Therefore the business of the different branches has been directed from the central office at Madison by a state manager, which office has been abolished. In the future, however, each branch will be conducted as an independent business and the man in charge will have full authority to employ his own buyers and other assistants, buy in any territory he chooses using his own judgment in all matters connected with the business. This new arrangement will make each local manager accountable to the New York office only and gives him an opportunity to show his ability to obtain results. It puts each manager upon a competitive basis and the man who holds a job long with the firm must demonstrate his true worth, not only in a business way but in his knowledge of the tobacco trade. Another view of the change is that the big trust is preparing to get away from any local entanglements that might arise from a decision that may result unfavorably in handling, its greater convenience and cleanliness, aside from the original cost, however, will inevitably lead to the greater introduction of oil as fuel.

BACK IN LINE.

Among the men who are back in line with the old republican party, and who place loyalty above partisanship, is ex-Governor Hoard. In the last issue of his paper, the Jefferson County Union, he has something to say about the republican law in connection with McGovern's platform, and takes that gentleman to task for one of his statements, accusing him of theorizing in the face of facts. This is what he has to say:

"For instance he stands by the primary law which is the most expensive form of nomination we have had, and then says:

"There is no reason why, in any contest for public office in Wisconsin, the millionaire, merely because of his money, should possess an advantage over the poorest man in the state."

"This is more theorizing. The facts show that when it comes to doing an expensive thing the rich man does possess an advantage merely because of his money. What is the use of talking theory when facts gravitate the other way? All that Mr. McGovern says subsequently about a stringent, corrupt, practices act and public utility, and a law against profuse expenditure, is all in place against the dominating fact that if a man gets his name prominently before the state as a candidate he must spend money liberally to do it.

"Mr. McGovern spent over $10,000 to get his name prominently before the voters as a candidate for United States senator. No doubt he spent it honestly but then he spent it and it was twice as much as the office was worth. Would he, or Cook, or Hutton, or Stephenson have spent what they did if they had not found it necessary to do so?"

Everybody knows that the primary law is bad from start to finish, and this fact has been made painfully apparent by men who have been defeated for office. It is not only a dispiriting factor but also results in authority rule wherever more than two party candidates are in the field for any office. The coming state convention will do well to recognize this baroque, and at least condemn it.

In another part of this paper will be found a letter from Mr. Hoard endorsing the state republican convention to be held in June. It will be gratifying to the republicans of the state to know that he is with them, heart and soul, ready to lend a hand in the work of reorganization.

TOO OFFICIOUS.

Collier's Weekly has long been noted for attempting to run the government and regulate every thing in sight. Last week this officious publication devoted a page to a series of unconsidered questions to be answered by voters for the enlightenment of Roosevelt. The answers to the questions were to be addressed to the "Outlook," a magazine in which Roosevelt is interested.

This scheme was conceived without consulting the Outlook publishers, but before the edition was fairly started on the Collier presses the Outlook people discovered what was going on and objected so strenuously that the press was stopped and the objectionable page taken out.

This is another case of "bumping in" on the part of the "National Weekly," and the publishers seem slow to learn that the American people prefer to do their own thinking. To be sure, Col. Roosevelt has been out of the country for a year or more, and his mind may be rusty on many important questions, but the chances are that he is as well advised as the men who seek to enlighten him.

THE PRAYER OF DEMOCRACY.

The Houston (Texas) Post has seen a great light in the opportunity for democratic victory presented through internal strife and disloyalty in the ranks of the republican party.

The "Post," however, is familiar with democratic weakness and, believing that a dispensation of Divine Providence is necessary to keep the brethren in line, thus petitions the throne of grace:

"O Lord, now that everything is coming our way, purge every democratic soul of hot air and vainglory and insert large instalments of common sense in every democratic cranium; and oh remember, Lord, our proneness to make fools of ourselves just when we have the world by the tail and a downhill pull, and so that we don't get in bad this time."

The long list of names, from all parts of the state, signed to the call for the republican state convention, indicates that the party is very much alive and only needs the touch of organization to make it a tower of strength. The test of loyalty comes as a satisfaction to every man who believes in Taft and his administration, and the woods are full of this kind of men.

Milwaukee is having trouble to float her bond issue. Capital is thin and lacks confidence in the new socialist administration. The socialists, by the way, are claiming 100,000 votes in the fall election. They may be disappointed as the decline is not very popular around the state.

Senator Cummings of Iowa ought to be good authority on railroad legislation. He comes from a state which fought the railroads to a finish twenty-five years ago, and the commonwealth has not yet recovered.

PRESS COMMENT.

Some Uncertainty. The insurgents of Wisconsin declare that they do not intend to capsize the cause of county option nor make it a plank of their platform. Yet some of their candidates on the state ticket and the Oshkosh Northwestern, their semi-official organ, declare themselves in favor of this issue.—Green Bay Gazette.

No Political Edison.

The idea of creating a tariff commission was originated by President McKinley, was favored by President Roosevelt, and now by President Taft. We speak of this because it is intimately by all the flip-flop independent papers of the country that the idea was first hatched in the fertile brain of R. M. La Follette.—Shawano Journal.

Only One Instance.

That money does not determine elections may be gathered from the fact that while the republicans spent about $10,000 in the Milwaukee campaign and the democrats about $24,000, the socialists spent less than $7,000. Judge Eschscholtz, who was elected, spent about $1,000 less than Mr. Roehr, who was defeated.—Milwaukee Free Press.

Chaff and Wheat.

Mr. Bryan's remarkable statement that "if the newspapers of this country did their duty to the public, there is not a wrong that could last one year in the United States," is certainly flattering in the power it attributes to the press, but the scattering abroad of such preposterous sophomoric statements makes one wonder at the mind which jumbles them up with real flashes of wisdom.—Marquette Eagle-Star.

True Blue.

The Chicago Tribune is asking regular republican members of congress and insurgent republicans, why they are regular or why they are insurgent, and this is the reply it prints from Senator Stephenson:

"I was a regular republican in 1850, when I distributed Fremont literature on the streets of Chicago, and I'm a regular republican now. No man is greater than his party. When he thinks that he is, and parts from it, he stands alone and powerless. I can accomplish most by standing firmly for the majority rule of the republican party, even if some of my own views are not always accepted as the final authority. I'm a regular republican because it's right to be."—Milwaukee Free Press.

THE SILVER LINING.

The inner side of every cloud is bright and shining.

I therefore turn my clouds about
And always wear them inside out
To show the lining.

—E. T. Fowler.

However the world may seem to
you, however miserable you may be,
smile.

When the slow tears force themselves
under your lids because of self
pity laugh aloud.

You say you can't do that—you must
be honest with yourself and you must act as you feel.

Of course you cannot put your best
foot forward, your best side out, except
by practice. And in the practice of forced optimism the world is finding
some wonderful cures of mind and body.

We are strange creatures. None of us quite understands himself. But we all admit the wonderful influence of
mild attitude over the body.

Do you know there is such a thing
as a "laughing cure"? Every day the patient sits for twenty minutes before
a mirror and laughs. The mere act suggests humor, and before long the person is laughing in all reality. Persons who have tried this for certain
ailments—melancholia, etc.—say it really cures.

Most of us take ourselves too seriously.

You can literally coax yourself into a melancholy. You can magnify your ills and form the breeding habit. If by this habit of mind you can make yourself
miserable, why cannot you by mental coaxing and habit minimize your
ills and put yourself in a cheerful
frame of mind?

Wear your clouds inside out.
Live on the sunny side of your existence.
You cannot improve a bad condition
by living in the shadow.

And if you go about with a long face
and a story of bad luck your best friends by and by will turn a corner
in order to keep from meeting you.

Hold up your chin and smile.
Do your best and look for the best
and all the day long act as if you were a son or a daughter of God's royal family, which you are. And remember
the slangy but philosophic stanza:

The difference between the optimist
and pessimist is this—
The optimist sees the doughnut.
The pessimist sees the hole.

Daily Dental Experiences

Yesterday was not an unusual day with me, yet it was remarkably unusual and satisfactory to a lot of suffering people who sought my aid in their need.

The first thing in the morning I extracted nine badly broken down roots. The patient said:

"It was the easiest job he ever had done."

Next was an extraction for a timid nervous patient.

Results—the same. No Pain.

And so on, all day.

Two teeth for another patient who was so gratified at the actual absence of all pain that she said:

"Why, Dr. Richards, you are a Prince of a Dentist."

Then came a gang of boys to witness the fun of one of their number having his teeth drawn.

Now let me tell you, you can't fool a boy. If it hurts, he will tell you so much quicker.

The teeth came hard, and I asked him if it hurt.

He said it didn't.

On the way home I passed this same bunch of boys with him in the center, telling his experience, and I heard him say again that it didn't hurt him a bit.

He manfully stood by his statement although the other boys gaped him.

They were like some older folks. They wouldn't believe it.

The only way to be convinced that I can really take out your teeth without hurting you

is to give me a chance to prove it in your own mouth.

STATE CONTEST AT HIGH SCHOOL

ORATORICAL CONTEST WILL BE HELD HERE TONIGHT

GEORGE YAHN WILL SPEAK

As Representative of the Local School Against Winners of Seven Other District Contests.

Representatives of high schools in various parts of the state and from one city in the northern peninsula of Michigan arrived in the city today for the annual state oratorical contest which is to be held at the high school building this evening.

The speakers from away and George Yahn of the local school will compete for the oratorical championship of Wisconsin. It is the first time such a gathering has been held in this city, and in fact the first time the contest has been held in any city outside of Madison, where it has usually been held at the time of the spring interscholastic athletic meet.

The contestants were selected at the last district contests held some time ago.

The students of the local school are deeply interested in the event, not only because it is the first time it has been held here but because it is the first time that Janesville has been represented in the state contest.

While they realize that their representative, George Yahn, will be matched against the best high school orators in the state, they earnestly hope that efforts may be successful and bring the highest honors to this school.

Headed Janesville, the schools that will be represented by speakers and delegations of faculty or students are: River Falls, Cobb, La Crosse, Marshfield, Sheboygan, Antigo, and Ironwood, Mich. The Janesville school was successful in a district contest with Wisconsin schools and thus secured admittance to the state contest.

Hon. John M. Whiteland will preside at the contest tonight and the judges will be Prof. R. L. Lyman and Prof. Scott H. Goodnight, of Madison, Prof. H. D. Denham, of Ellettsville, and Prof. C. R. Rounds and Rev. W. L. Lewis of Whitewater. The judges were selected by Prof. G. C. Shuts of the Whitewater Normal school and the positions of the contestants or their representatives. The names of the selections of the last two speakers were not known until too late for publication. The program this evening will be as follows:

1.—"The Empire Builder," George Yahn, Janesville, Wis.

2.—"On the Boston Massacre," Jay

C. Truesdell, River Falls, Wis.

3.—"The Court of Last Appeal," Curtis O. Callow, Cobb, Wis.

4.—"Jean Valjean and the Bishop," Irving Tatum, La Crosse, Wis.

5.—"Gratton's Invention Against Cory," Joe Glassner, Marshfield, Wis.

6.—"The March of the Flag," Harold Bachman, Sheboygan, Wis.

7.—"Sam Patch, Ironwood, Mich.

8.—"Hans Shaprio, Antigo, Wis.

9.—"The Wayside Chapel," High School Orchestra.

Shoemaker's Candles.

I well remember some 70 years since, says a correspondent of the Gloucester, seeing flat candles in use. To produce what was known as the flat candle, which was also sometimes called "shoemaker's candle," two newly made "dips" were pressed close to each other, while soft, and then again lowered into the hot fat, thus holding them together as one candle with two wicks. The idea could then be increased if desired. This flat candle was most generally used by shoemakers and tailors, but was made use of in some households whenever an extra bright light for working or reading was required.

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A.M., M.D.

The would-be-made model wives have waked up to the fact that there is some work of importance to do outside the four walls of home. They have watched mother, or helped her just enough to know, in the one case that slavery is pure cussedness; in the other that it is insipid. They have discovered that they have the same ability, the same right, the same desire to be independent; to accomplish certain ends; to become living parts of a living world, as those who would tie them hand and foot to what is at best a hard task—that of keeping and making the home. That those who do surrender themselves to this labor of home-making are doing the greatest good in the world cannot be denied, for it is the work of love, sacrifice and absolute usefulness. But especially in the case of those whose income is weighed in the scales of want and the where-withal—how great the warning to those who might be tempted to do likewise. And it seems to me at times that love is not kind to them, to lead them as it does from the great open of Freedom to the martyrdom of Consecration. It blinds them but to inflict. And it is, beautifully and pathetically sad. All praise to her who suffers, endures, is brave and is glad in her chosen life. She who chooses the store, the office or a profession is wise, but she who chooses to become a wife and mother is best, deserving the love, pity, sympathy, praise, help and appreciation of All Humanity. Her work is beyond our realization. Think it over.

A Clever New Creation.

Two very important new features, as follows, actually appear in the following Coffee substitute now known to consumers as Dr. Ship's Health Coffee.

1st—Is the fragrance—good, two-thirds farther than real coffee and costs less than 10¢ per pound.

2nd—Tastes health and general strength follow the use of pure roasted grains, malt, rice, etc. are also used in this wholesome food-like drink.

3rd—Not a grain of real coffee is in it, and yet the color, taste and flavor are surprisingly close to that of genuine old Java and Mocha coffees.

4th—Made in a minute—No 20 to 30 minutes tedious boiling is at all necessary.

5th—A 25¢ package, 14 pounds, gives 170 full cups of the splendid drink. Write Dr. Ship, Racine, Wis. for his free booklet, Coffee Dangers.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

I may develop eloquence,
Drop pottles for bloomer;
Or scorning shame and saving pence,
Bar costume and consumer;
But Heaven grant me recompense—
A trace of saving common sense,
A grain or two of humor.

THAT is given in life as a proper prayer for the Maiden of 1910, presumably against the dangers of woman's suffrage. Seems to me those last two sentences would be a good petition for a good many people besides the suffragettes—in short, for that pathetic class of people who take existence too seriously.

I do not like people who refuse over to be in earnest about life, but on the whole I think they are much easier people to get along with than those who adopt towards their work and themselves the same deadly and priggish seriousness that the high school graduate puts into his "sway on life."

I don't believe in the philosophy of "What difference will anything do make a hundred years from now?" But I do believe in the philosophy that won't let the most important work or the most sincere devotion to any cause blind one to the fact that there is a funny side to life.

To be thoroughly in earnest about life and about doing one's best, yet not to take oneself too seriously seems to me the acme of successful living.

I know people who think it is something to be very proud of that they can't see anything to laugh at in a funny play or extravaganza.

I think that to be able to go to a nonsensical or extravagant play and laugh heartily at the sheer absurdity of it, is an ability to be painstakingly cultivated. Doing healthily silly once in a while is one of the best brain relaxations there is. The greatest men and women have seldom lacked an unusually keen sense of humor. Take for example our own Lincoln.

Learn to laugh at your failures and you have defeated defeat, for nothing takes the sting out of failure like being able to see the funny side of it.

Learn to laugh at yourself when other people laugh at you, and you will never be made fun of in any really unkind way.

A sense of humor seems to me about as good a matrimonial qualification as there is. I think I would sooner marry the man who laughed at the same things I did, than the one who was touched or exalted with me.

There is only one sadder sight than a man or woman with a keen sense of humor life-yoked to a mate absolutely without humor, and that is to see two perfectly serious minded people plodding along their weary way together.

Humor is the salt without which even very great goodness is apt to be rather unpalatable.

And it is well to remember that we could do without many foods, apparently much more important, far more easily than we could without salt.

No lot of us who are conscious of being rather too serious-minded—and I know I'll have to plead guilty with the rest—join the maiden of 1910 in asking that our worthy seriousness, our admirable high mindedness may be suitably tempered by

"A trace of saving common sense,

A grain or two of humor."

I believe that the sense of humor is almost as important a sense to develop as the moral sense.

Without a sense of humor it is almost impossible to get a proper perspective on life and on yourself.

FOUR "AMERICAN BEAUTIES" OF WASHINGTON. Upper left, Miss Edith Burnham; upper right, Miss Nancy Johnson; lower left, Miss Ethel Clapp; lower right, Miss Eloise Hughes.

Washington, D. C.—Among the younger social set few are more widely known or more popular than Miss Edith Burnham, daughter of United States Senator Burnham of New Hampshire; Miss Nancy Johnson, daughter of United States Congressman Johnson of Kentucky; Miss Ethel Clapp, daughter of United States Senator Clapp of Minnesota; and Miss Eloise Hughes, daughter of United States Congressman Hughes of West Virginia. Miss Johnson had the honor recently of being sponsor for the new Pacific liner, Kentucky, of the American-Hawaiian Steamship company. At its launching last month she was the central figure. Miss Clapp is unusually talented and a great favorite. Miss Burnham is noted for her charming musical and extensive and lavish entertainments. Miss Hughes of West Virginia is one of the most attractive of southern beauty. Her charm has won a host of friends.

GAVE HIM AWAY.

Miss R. E. Marks—Frank proposed to me last night, but it took him over an hour to come to the point.

Miss Cautious—He always was slow at proposing.

Cheerfulness Means Long Life.

Keep cheerful, for just as sunlight brings health, so does a sunny heart ward off the physical rainy day. Is the advice of a writer interested in women. Watch the digestion. The woman who can count on her stomach not going back on her usually prolongs her youth into old age. The secret of most neuroticisms is undigested food. Have an interest in life, but learn to keep it within bounds. The trouble with most women is they let their interests be master. A hobby is said to bring health, but never when it is overdone. Cultivate pliability and self-control. The quiet, placid woman may bend with the weight of her burdens, but she rarely breaks, as does her sister who lives with every nerve tense.

Be normal in your attitude of life. Avoid excess. Learn the value of a happy and healthy body and you have little to dread from the breakdown, which, should it come, will find you with a good capital.

The unprofitableness of advertising is not in doing too much of it—it is in not doing it correctly.

PLAY BALL—See ad elsewhere.

THOROUGHNESS.

By MARY RUSSELL.

Watch a workman or woman at any kind of toil. You will find that those who are expert at their work even though it be washing clothes, or cleaning streets, are those who are most interested in what they are doing.

Two scrub women in a large office building attracted my attention the other day. One finished the mop languidly and dispiritedly over the door, leaving a muddy trail and a strong odor of soap.

her walk as records of the many footsteps that had passed over it. The other wrung and mopped and wiped briskly and with an air of business like good cheer that was inspiring.

I could not help being curious as to the mental attitude of the two women, so I engaged them in conversation in turn.

The languid lady leaning on her mop informed me that she had seven better days, in sentences that showed that "better days" was merely a relative term. She was really about on her level and told me that fate had dealt with her according to her deserts.

The other woman answered briskly, playing her mop as she talked. She was as clean hearted and wholesome as her work indicated, talked with a heartiness bit of brogue and had ambition for the children.

When I spoke of the neatness of her work she beamed at me and said, "It's a bit of a trick—but I like to see the floors come up clean and bright. I tell my girls I play confessor to the floor and wipe off all the mud and dirt of the day's work. It's a good thing to help the world be cleaner."

And that was a pleasant bit of philosophy, too!

In response to my question as to the future of the children she beamed again. They are to go through high school. "Indeed, and I have been sent back by my little education— but the girls 'll have it and they give me bits of theirs so that they'll not have to blush for me when they get good jobs in the world. Yes, you're right dear, it's worth living and working for!"

A philosopher of the mop path! We who imagine the ability to think and reason is confined to the few, have much to learn.

Some may be "like dumb driven cattle"—but hearts that beat high with hope thrill all about us. Brains that dream and "think are" found in strange and unthought-of places.

Given the touchstone of sympathy and understanding and the people who through the streets are as full of "the heart interest" as the phantom people in the latest successful play or book.

You must have eyes that were made for seeing—and a heart open to sympathy, and an understanding of life if you would read as you run—but the study is worth while. Your chance acquaintance may reap benefits, but you are the greatest gainer if you broaden your vision.

If you cannot learn to love your neighbor at least a sympathetic understanding comes next.

Wall Paper.

In these days of simplicity of furniture, when the painfully twisted shapes and dust catching whittos are relegated to the oblivion of the attic, there is greater opportunity for the decoration of the walls of a room.

When it is brought to mind how much of the wall space of a room is evident it is necessary that due consideration be given to the selection of paper. The pattern should not be such that the harmonious furnishings of a room are lost in the daintling of color or design of the background.

Plain paper of neutral tones or in distinct striped paper is the most desirable. Nothing is more execrable in taste than the glaring huge flower forms that pain the eye and hang in questionable glory (that never seems to fade on the four walls of a room).

A plain lower portion of harlequin or Japanese grass cloth or even linen is excellent as a relief from the patterned paper above. The tapestry tones give wide choice for the lower plain band and are preëminently in real artistic combinations.

One decorator suggests a study of a Persian rug for inspiration in the selection of colors for wall decoration. Of course the wall must be considered in connection with the general scheme of the room. Never should it be dissociated from the other furnishings if the most artistic results be your aim.

To Fit the Crime.

"I ain't no saint, boss," said the hero. "I want voted a couple o' hundred repeaters in my precinct, an' they sent me to penitentiary for it." "Groat Caesar!" exclaimed the man who had just befriended him. "I did the same thing once, and they sent me to congress for it."—Chicago Tribune.

Everyone admires beautiful, natural hair. By using our Lemon and Egg Shampoo regularly any woman may possess that kind of hair. Pretty hair is denied to none. This Shampoo makes the hair soft and fluffy. It gives to it that sheen and shimmer not obtainable in any other manner. Regular 50c size bottle tomorrow only at 25c each.

You need not suffer from sickness,
and you need not
fill yourself with
drugs in order to
be made well.

The great new science of Chiropractic
(CHI-KRO-PRAK-TIK)
has shown the world
that in order to be made well and to remain well it is necessary to remove
the cause of the affection and that
treating symptoms
with medicine is
not as practical as
the Chiropractic adjustments. Every body which controls
every function and
organ of the entire human system and every nerve (approximately 100,000 in all) pass through the spine. When certain nerves do not perform their functions you become sick. The way to remove the cause of the sickness is to get at the nerves that are not working.
This is done by Chiropractic adjustment of the spine. Almost every ailment is curable
by the Chiropractic science. If you suffer from sickness of any kind, call for free consultation and advice.

Forced to Guess Answer.

It beats all what odd question reach
some of the departments of government in Washington. Not long ago
the treasury received a letter from a Pittsburg man who had made a bet,
asking: "How many cents are there
in a bushel?" The answer was not easy to offer. If the man had asked about pounds he might have received a definite answer. As it was, he got in reply a guess from a clerk, that
"roughly there are something like $20, or $2,000 pennies."

NEW BOILERS FOR
PUMPING STATION

Two Thousand Dollars Will Be Spent
in Improvement of Equipment
at Monroe Plant.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroe, Wis., May 27.—The two old boilers at the pumping station
will be torn out and replaced by a new 150-h. p. boiler, which will be a duplicate of the one now in use. The new equipment will necessitate the expenditure of $2,000. The old boilers were condemned years ago and in consequence have been of little use to the plant. Little will remain
of the old plant when the new change is made. The fire pumps will be the only old machinery remaining and
these will soon have to give way to new pumps.

Mrs. Hawthorne Dead.
Mrs. Abigail Hawthorne died at noon yesterday at her home 331
West Monroe street, following a long illness. She was the widow of the late Andrew J. Hawthorne, whose death occurred two years ago in May. Mrs. Hawthorne was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Chamberlain and came to Green county in 1813. In 1862 she was married to Mr. Hawthorne and they were the parents of four children, only one of whom survives, W. L. Hawthorne of this city. The deceased was a member of the Evangelical church for forty-two years. Two sisters, Mrs.
Louisa Dye, of this city, and Mrs.
Mary E. Potter, of Chippewa Falls,
and six grand-children survive. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon
and burial will be in the Hawthorne cemetery.

Race Entries.
The first entries for the Green

in the $300 stake-races scheduled for Friday and Saturday. The horsemen
have until June 10 to make their entries and it was not expected that
any would come in so early.

VERY HIGH ART IN PRINTING BUSINESS

Beautiful Color Work Recently Produced by the Gazette Printing Department.
The Printing Department of The Gazette has just completed a long run of 32-page catalogs for the Hough Shade Corporation. The work is done in five colors on highly finished,
enameled book stock with beautiful
drawings showing the product of the Hough Shade Corporation. The entire work is of the highest class and
reflects much credit on the manufacturers of the Vudor Porch Shade and Hammocks as well as upon the printers. In speaking of the five colors
which were placed upon the book, one
does not realize the amount of work
necessary in the production of printed matter of this sort. Each color means a run through the press, so that the entire work passed through the printing process five distinct
times on each side of the printed
sheet, an impracticality in all.

A large lot of three to five color
work is being produced for the Calor-
le Co., which is being used to augment the vigorous publicity campaign which that Company is carrying on. The original drawings and the half-tone cuts which have been reproduced from these drawings are of the highest class. Some very unique and original pieces of printed matter have been designed by the Calorle Co., work is calculated to impress the public with the quality of the Calorle product.

Another issue of Parker Side Talks
from the pen of Geo. M. Parker has recently been finished. There were 25,000 of these spicy pieces of business literature done in two colors
handsomely illustrated which have been sent out to the trade all over the world. In addition to the issue of Side Talks, a 22,000 run of two-
page inserts has also been finished
for the Parker Porch Co. A really splendid business tonic and demonstrates that progressiveness will yield big returns.

A great amount of other work of various kinds is being handled by the Printing Department of The Gazette
and it is interesting for those who enjoy inspecting fine printing to watch the various processes in this complete printing plant.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist.

PINEAPPLE VALUABLE FOR DYSPEPTICS.

Pineapple is a valuable fruit,
not yet fully appreciated. It contains in milder form all the valuable qualities of the other
fruits, and one peculiar to itself,
a digestant which makes it most desirable for dyspeptics and invalids in general. In certain extreme cases of nervous dyspepsia it may be used as an exclusive diet for a short time. Like other fruits, it is best fresh, but
if properly canned it keeps well.
The pulp is indigestible, and in many cases irritating, and this should be carefully excluded. In the case of children it is sometimes best to express the juice
and let it be sipped slowly. It is compatible with ripe banana,
which contains more substantial nourishment, or with figs,
both of which are more easily
digested than bread or toast,
and in some cases preferable
to milk, temporarily, for children, or for older invalids.

mencement Exercises Were Interesting and Impressive.
There was a large attendance at the Mercy hospital training school commencement exercises which were held at Library hall last evening and
the program was very interesting and impressive. It included addresses by several of the local physicians, remarkable by the Very Rev. Dean E. E.
Holly, and very pleasing musical numbers. Those latter included renditions by the St. Cecilia male choir
under the direction of W. T. Thiele,
the opera house orchestra led by George V. Gray, and some instrumental numbers by J. Francis Con-

FORTY YEARS AGO

Forty Years Ago.
Janesville Daily Gazette, May 27,
1870.—This end of the Barrett Murder Trial—murder in the First Degree—After listening to the charge
of the Judge this morning, the jury,
upon the Barrett murder trial, retired. Their verdict upon returning,
after an absence of two hours and a half, was: "Guilty of murder in the first degree, in manner form and charge in the indictment." The grief of the prisoner and his friends
was uncontrollable, bursting forth in a wall of agony, and the eyes of many spectators in the court room
were filled with tears. When the emotion had somewhat subsided the prisoner knelt and offered a really
touching and impressive prayer.

It is not known who of the Armours
have been staying there and the place
has neither telephone nor railroad communication.

A Careless Messenger.
After a messenger boy had eaten
his lunch in a Pearl street restaurant in the New York financial district, Harry Bohrer, the manager,
found a package on the table, and opening it he discovered that it contained $25,000 in currency and also sufficient negotiable securities to make a total of $50,000. From the papers in the package he believed the
valuables belonged to the state bank,
a few doors away, and hurried there
with the money. The cashier quickly identified the parcel and Bohrer was given a reward.

FRAUDS AFFECT 50,000 MEMBERS

ROCK ISLAND GRAND JURY RE-SUMES QUIZ IN FRATERNAL
SCANDALS.

TWO MORE ORDERS INVOLVED

Woman Witness Almost Collapses
When Questioned Regarding Certain Notes—Charged That Several Men Conspired to Loot Societies.

Rock Island, Ill., May 27.—Evidence that seven or more men made an agreement last summer to become members of a number of small fraternal insurance societies of Illinois with the intention of systematically looting their treasuries was submitted or will be presented to the Rock Island grand jury that is probing into the fraternal insurance scandals, in which, it is now claimed, 50,000 members are affected by alleged embezzlements.

Whether these men held a meeting or not has not yet been determined, but it is said that positive evidence that they had an agreement has been secured.

Two additional societies have been added to the list involved in the scandal and it is now asserted that in addition to the dozen already named, the Ideal Union and the Capital Life were looted by the men whose records are being investigated.

Sensations Are Sprung.

The grand jury resumed its hearing after a week's recess and there were some sensations sprung in the grand jury room, according to reports. It is said that one witness, Miss Margaret McElvaine, assistant cashier of the Farmers' State bank of Auburn, Hamilton county, Illinois, after a severe examination relative to certain notes, almost collapsed. She has stated that she does not remember the details of the transaction involved, and does not know whether it appears on the records of the bank or not. Her brother, S. S. McElvaine, was treasurer of the Fraternal Tribunes after the merger.

Miss McElvaine, according to the records of the Fraternal Tribunes was paid $7,500 on a note to the American Home Circle. This note, it is alleged, does not appear on the records of the American Home Circle prior to the merger with the Fraternal Tribunes and did not appear until after the merger. Miss McElvaine was called here for the purpose of learning whether it was a genuine note for money advanced.

$7,500 Note Is Involved.
O. L. Caldwell of Springfield was also before the jury relative to a note which the records of the Fraternal Tribunes show he was paid $7,500 in settlement, but which, it is claimed, does not appear on the records of the American Home Circle, although purporting to have been made prior to the merger. Caldwell was before the jury for a long time and when he emerged he was very nervous. State's Attorney Magill means to investigate further this transaction.

MRS. DOXEY SCORES A POINT.

Doctor Says He Gave Husband Morphine Two Hours Before Death.

St. Louis, May 27.—The defense scored an important point when during the trial of Mrs. Dora E. Doxey, Dr. A. Friedberg admitted on cross-examination that he gave Wil-
J. Erder, for whose death Mrs. Doxey is on trial, one-third of a grain of morphine about two hours before he died. The defense will contend that this, in view of the weakened condition Erder was in at the time, was sufficient to cause death. Friedberg said he also gave the patient some atropine but was unable to remember whether he administered the two drugs at the same time.

NEW YORK PRIMARY BILL DEAD.

Assembly Kills Compromise Act—
Hughes Will Veto Other.

Albany, N. Y., May 27.—By the decisive vote of 48 to 94 the Cobb compromise direct nomination bill, after having passed the senate, was defeated in the assembly as the climax of a session of 14 hours.

As the legislature will adjourn today and Governor Hughes has announced that he will veto the Mondak-Phillips bill, which has passed both houses, the only hope of primary reform or direct nomination legislation this year lies in the possibility of an extraordinary session being called.

BIG BROKER FIRM SUSPENDED.

Stock Exchange Punishes Hutton &
Co. for Infraction of Rules.

New York, May 27.—H. F. Hutton & Co., one of the most prominent brokerage firms in New York, was suspended from membership on the New York stock exchange for a period of one year.

Hutton & Co. had been found guilty by the governing committee of the stock exchange of having violated a strict rule of the exchange in regard to splitting commissions, whereby an employee was paid an unusually large salary.

Hoppe Wins 182 Match.
New York, May 27.—William Hoppe added the world's 182 billiard championship to the 181 crown which he holds when he defeated Harry J. Cline of Philadelphia by a score of 500 to 394.

DICKY WINS HANDICAP SHOOT.
Davenport Man Proves Dark Horse in Big Event at Des Moines.

Des Moines, Ia., May 27.—By a score of 96 out of a possible 100 targets, J. E. Dickey of Davenport won the banner event of the western handicap shoot here. The performance of Mr. Dickey was a surprise to the shooters, as he was a dark horse in a field of 119 entries, and a comparative stranger to the shooting fraternity. As winner of the western handicap event, Mr. Dickey received first money and the championship trophy.

Four shooters tied for second honors with a score of 94.

Here is a Good Point to Remember When Buying Lightning Rods

The Dodd & Struthers Rods are endorsed by the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies, and many other companies, both mutual and stock make special discounts where D. & S. rods are used. The D. & S. Rods received the highest award at the St. Louis Exposition and at the Jamestown Exposition.

I recently made an offer of $25.00 to be awarded to any agent or manufacturer who could produce a rod as good as the D. & S. rods, and no one took the offer.

I also offered a reward of $50.00 to any man who could produce proofs of any building being struck by lightning with D. & S. rods on it.

These Two Facts Alone Prove Conclusively that D. & S. are the Best, and That They Absolutely Protect Your Buildings

Don't buy a rod unless you buy the best, because when you buy rods you buy PROTECTION, and the best protection is what you want. "Just as Good" rods are not just as good, because if they were they would not have to make claims in that way. D. & S. rods are made of pure copper strands with the Greatest amount of conductivity. They are the cheapest in the end because they are best.

Each rod is sold with a guarantee to give you back your money or repair the damage in case of being struck by lightning.

Write for Booklet which tells more about them.

Is Your Porch Useless Half The Day?

Make it a CHARM and a COMFORT ALWAYS will make the sunniest, breeziest porch an inviting all-day living room, where you can read, sew, play games, or take a nap in perfect comfort. At night, a protected sleeping place for those who sleep out-of-doors in pleasant weather.

Vudor Porch Shades

shut out all sun-glare and wind,
but let in ample light and air

They give the insider plenty of outlook, but the outsider gets no inlook. They really add another room to your house, as secluded and private as any and unapproached for healthful enjoyment, at a cost so low that it will surprise you.

The way Vudor Porch Shades are made, accounts for their great superiority. The slats are of tough, straight-grained wood, stained (not painted) in pleasing colors. And the warp is of seine twine, such as is used for fishing nets. They have heavy strips top and bottom, and are supplied with the best possible fixtures. They last for years and do not frizzle out at the ends, nor warp out of shape, as do the cheap bamboo screens.

Anyone who has a screw-driver can quickly put them up. They are easily raised or lowered and may be fastened at any desired height.

The only place to buy them in Janesville is here.

We have a full line which we are as glad to demonstrate as we are to endorse.

BIG MEETING FOR MOTORISTS.

Indianapolis Tourney Is Opened With Big Entry List.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 27.—More than 60 cars have been entered for the automobile meet which began at the Indianapolis speedway today. This marks the opening of a track for 1910, which will be the scene of an aviation contest, two balloon contests, and four more automobile meets during the coming summer.

Today and tomorrow will be devoted to the events in the first grand circuit speedway meet. Ten contests were on the program for today, the chief prize being a trophy valued at $1,000 for stock chassis of 301 to 400 cubic inches displacement. The distance is 100 miles. Tomorrow there will be eight events, the most important of which will be a 200-mile race for the Wheller-Schreiber trophy, valued at $3,000.

The chief interest centers on the great national championship races to be held on Decoration day. There will be 14 races in the championship events and the entire day will be required to run them. It is likely that the starters in the several divisions will far outnumber any field in any previous motor races.

ILLINOIS MINERS GO TO WORK.

Operators of Fifth and Ninth Districts Sign New Scale.

Burlington, Ill., May 27.—The operators of the fifth and ninth mining districts signed the new wage scale with the miners and 15,000 men will return to work at once. The operators' association is on the verge of disintegration as the result of signing up of these operators. Many of those who signed have been members of the association.

Dice Throwing for Charity.

A singular incident, which has not taken place during the last 30 years, occurred at the town hall, Guilford, recently, in connection with the interesting old ceremony of throwing dice for the "maid's money," or John How's charity, says the London Standard.

Both servants on the first throw obtained exactly the same total—ten, and on taking the dice-box for the second time Ellen Hows totaled 12 and John How's charity, says the London Standard.

HALF A CHANCE

"That's John Steele cross examining now," Captain Forsythe whispered to the girl. And the witness—that's Dandy Joe, as he's called, one of the police spies, cheap race track man and so on, in the box. He came to the front in a murder trial quite celebrated in its day and one I always had my own little theory about. Not that it matters now," he added, with a sigh.

But the girl was listening to another voice, a clear voice, a quiet voice, a voice capable of the strongest varying accents. She looked at the speaker. He held himself with the assurance of one certain of his ground. His shoulders were straight and broad. He stood like an athlete, and when he moved it was impossible to be unconscious of a certain physical grace that came from well-trained muscles. He carried his head high, as if from a habit of thought of looking up, not down, when he turned from the pages of the heavy tomes in his study. His face conveyed an impression of intelligence and intensity. His eyes, dark and deep, searched fully those they rested on.

He had reached a point in his cross examination where he had almost thoroughly discredited this witness for the prosecution when, turning toward a table to take up a paper, his glance, casually lifting, rested on the distinguished party in the rear of the room, or, rather, it rested on one of them. Against the dark background the girl's golden hair was well calculated to catch the wandering gaze.

The flowers in her hat, the great bunch of violets in her dress added insistent alluring bits of color in the dim spot where she sat. Eerily as a fly stem, she looked oddly out of place in that large, lumber room. There, where the harsh requiem of bruised and broken lives unceasingly sounded, she seemed like some presence typical of spring, wafted thither by mistake. The man continued to regard her. Suddenly he started, and his eyes almost eagerly searched the lovely, proud face.

His back was turned to the judge, who stirred nervously, but waited a fraction of a second before he spoke. "If the cross examination is finished," he began.

John Steele wheeled; his face changed; a smile of singular charm accompanied his answer.

"Your lordship will pardon me; the human mind has its aberrations. At the moment, by a curious psychological turn, a feature of another problem seized me. It was like playing two games of chess at once. Perhaps your honor has experienced the sensation."

His lordship beamed. "Quite so," he observed unctuously.

The business of the morning ran on, and John Steele at length concluded his cross examination. "I think, your lordship, the question of the reliability of this man as a witness in this or any other case—fully established."

"Any other case?" said his lordship. "We are not trying any other case."

"Witness may go," said his lordship brusquely.

Dandy Joe, a good deal damaged in the world's estimation, stepped down. His erstwhile wild curled mustache of brick dust now seemed to droop as he slunk out of the box. He appeared subdued, almost frightened, quite unlike the jaunty little cockney that had stepped so blithely forth to give his testimony.

The witnesses all heard, John Steele, for the defense, spoke briefly, but his words were well chosen, his sentences of classic purity. As the girl listened it seemed to her not strange that Captain Forsythe, as well as others perhaps, should be drawn hither on occasions when this man appeared. Straight, direct logic characterized the speech from beginning to end. Only once did a suggestion of sentiment—cut pity for that gin besotted thing, the prisoner—intrude itself; then it passed so quickly his lordship forgot to intervene, and the effect remained, a flash, illuminating, Rembrandt-like.

Time slipped by. The judge looked at his watch, belittling him of a big silver dish filled with amber hued spiced of the Blip and Turtle and adjourned court. His address interrupted by the exigencies of the moment, John Steele began mechanically to gather up his books. He absently separated them again. At the same time Sir Charles and his party walked to the bench. They were met by his lordship and cordially greeted.

"A privilege, Sir Charles, to meet one we have heard of so often in the antipodes."

"Thank you, His lordship, Judge Deeson, when, whose decisions—"

"Allow me to congratulate you, sir!"

The enthusiastic voice was that of Captain Forsythe, addressing John Steele. "Your cross examination was masterly. Had you been in a certain other case years ago when the evidence of that very person on the stand today in the main convicted a man of murder I fancy the result then would have been different."

John Steele seemed not to hear. His eyes were turned toward the beautiful girl. She was standing quite close to him now. He could detect the fragrance of the violets she wore, a fresh sweet smell so welcome in that close, musty atmosphere.

"My niece, your lordship, Miss Wray."

Steele saw her bow and heard her speak to that august court personage. Then, as the latter, after further brief talk, hurried away—

"Sir Charles, let me present to you Mr. Steele," said Captain Forsythe.

"Lady Wray?"

"Happy to know you, sir," said the governor heartily.

"Miss Jocelyn Wray," added the military man, "who," with a laugh, "experienced some doubts about a visit of this kind being conducive to pleasure."

John Steele took the small gloved hand she gave him. Her eyes were very bright.

"I enjoyed—I don't mean that—I am so glad I came," said the girl—and heard you!" she added.

"He thanked her in a low tone, looking at her hand as he dropped it. "You—you are making England your home?"

"Yes," she looked at him a little surprised. "At least for the present! But how?" she broke off. "I suppose, though, you could tell my accent. I've lived nearly all my life in Australia, sir."

Sir Charles, interrupting, reminded them of an appointment. The party turned. A slender figure inclined itself slightly toward John Steele. A voice wished him good morning. The man stood with his hands on his hips. It did not occur to him to accompany her to the door. Suddenly he looked over his shoulder. At the threshold she, too, had turned her head. An instant their glances met. The next she was gone.

CHAPTER V.

AT THE OFFICE.

WHEN John Steele left the court toward the end of the day he held his head as a man who thinks deeply. From the door he directed his steps toward Charles Cross, but only to wheel abruptly and retrace his way. He was not an absentminded man, yet he had been striding unconsciously, not toward his customary destination at that hour, the several chambers at once his office and his home. For a moment the strong face of the man relaxed as if in amusement at his own rambleness. Gradually, however, it once more resumed its expression of unending thoughtfulness.

Turning into a narrow way not far from the embankment, he stopped before the door of a solid looking brick building, let himself in and made his way upstairs. On the third floor he applied another and smaller key to another lock and from a hall entered a large apartment, noteworthy for its handsome array of books that reached from floor to ceiling wherever there was wall space. Passing through this apartment, John Steele stepped into that adjoining, the sitting and dining room.

A discreet rapping at the door, followed by the appearance of a round faced little man with a tray, interrupted further contemplation or reverie on John Steele's part. Seizing himself to the servant's inquiry if "anything" else would be required and when the man had withdrawn mechanically turned to his letters and to his simple evening repast. He ate with no great evidence of appetite, soon brushed his misshapen, half read, aside and pushed back his chair.

Lighting a pipe, he picked up one of the papers. Amid voluminous wastes of type an item in the court and society column had caught his eye:

Sir Charles and Lady Wray, who are intending henceforth to reside in England, have returned to the stately Wray mansion in Piccadilly, where they will be for the season. Our well-known courtier and his lady are accompanied by their niece, the beautiful and accomplished Miss Jocelyn Wray, only child of Sir Charles' younger brother, the late Hon. Mr. Richard Wray, whose estate included enormous holdings in Australia as well as several thousand acres in Devonshire. This charming young colonial has already captivated London society.

John Steele read carefully this bit of news and then reread it. He even found himself guilty of perusing all the other paragraphs, the comings and goings, the doings! They related to a world he had thought little about, a world within the world, just as the people who lived in tunnels and dark passages constituted another world within the world. Her name danced in illustrious company. Here were dukes and earls and counts, a sprinkling of the foreign element, begums, emirs, the nation's guests. He saw also "Sir Charles, Lady Wray and Miss Wray" among the long list of box holders for that night at the opera, a gala occasion, commanded by royalty for the entertainment of certain barbarian personages who had come across the seas to be diplomatically coddled and fed.

Folding his newspaper, John Steele turned to his legal papers, strove to replace idleness by industry, but the spirit of work failed to respond. He looked at his watch, rang sharply a bell.

"Put out my clothes," he said to the servant who appeared with a lamp, "and have a cab at the door."

The opera had already begun, but pandemonium still reigned about the box office. A thunder of applause from within, indicating that the first act had come to an end, was followed by the usual stream of black and white figures impatient for cigarettes and light lobby gossip.

"Divine, eh? The opera, I mean!" A voice accented John Steele, and, turning, he beheld a familiar face with black whiskers, that of Captain Forsythe. "This is somewhat different from the morning's environment?"

"Yes," said the other. "But your first question, with a smile, 'I'm afraid I can't answer. I've just come, and if I hadn't—well, I'm no judge of music.'"

A bell sounded. John Steele, excusing himself, entered the auditorium and was shown to his seat.

The curtain went up at last, the music began, and melodies that seemed born in the springtime succeeded one another. Perennial in freshness, theme followed theme; what joy, what gladness, what merriment, what maddest flow long was the net; how short? It came to a sudden end. After applause and bravos men again got up and walked out. He, too, left his seat and strolled toward the back.

"Mr. Steele! One moment!" He found himself once more addressed by the good humored Captain Forsythe. "Behold in me a Mercury, committed to an imperative mission. You are commanded to appear not in the royal box, but in Sir Charles'."

"Sir Charles Wray?" John Steele regarded the speaker quickly.

"Yes," laughed the other. "You see, I happened to mention I had seen you. 'Why didn't you bring him with you to the box?' queried Sir Charles. He, by the by, went in for law himself before he became governor. 'Only had time to shake hands this morning.' 'Yes; why didn't you?' spoke up Miss Jocelyn. 'You commanded me to bring him?' I inquired. 'My all means,' she laughed, 'I commanded.' So here I am."

John Steele did not answer, but Captain Forsythe without waiting for a reply turned and started up the broad stairway. The other, after a moment's hesitation, followed, duly entered one of the larger boxes, spoke to Sir Charles and his wife and returned the bow of their niece. Amid varied plaudits Steele's glance turned off toward the girl. She was dressed in white; a snowy bow draped from the slender bare shoulders, as if it might any moment slip off; a string of pearls, each one with a pearl of pure light; in the center, clasped her throat.

Great State of Texas.

The 25 states which compose the home land of the German empire, including Alsace-Lorraine, have an area of 208,250 square miles with a population of 60,641,378. Texas has an area of 267,780 square miles. After the German empire had been laid down upon Texas in the remainder space of 57,530 square miles it would be feasible to tuck in all of England and Wales with the exception of the tiny county of Rutland. Or if that arrangement should promise to impose too much work upon the Texas Rangers it would be possible to include the Netherlands, Belgium and Denmark and Switzerland. Still Texas would have room for a few stragglers.

The United States army transport Sumner has been selected by Secretary Knox to carry the delegates to Buenos Aires. The Sumner has been refitted at a large expense and is well adapted for the proposed trip.

The delegates selected are as follows: Henry White, former ambassador of the United States to France and Italy, chairman. Col. A. Leo Well, president of the Pittsburg Voters' league, which has pushed the councilman's bribery investigation, says that reports of his detection in France and Switzerland prove this absolutely.
